

Arnie thinks he has a MILLION sprinkles. How many does he really have?

What's the name of the machine that made Arnie into a ring?

Why were the doughnut holes "grossed out" when they saw the jelly doughnut?

When Arnie meets the other doughnuts for the first time, what kind of doughnut is he trying to chat with?

What does the Long John prefer to be called?

Name 3 silly characters who were in the bakery when it opened.

What did Arnie say when he looked up and saw Mr. Bing pointing at him?

Why was Arnie grateful for the soft napkin the baker had so thoughtfully placed underneath him in the bag?

Arnie thought Mr. Bing was picking him up to hold him. What was Mr. Bing really going to do? What did Arnie do when he realized this?

When Mr. Bing told Arnie that he eats a doughnut every day, what 3 emotions did Arnie experience?

Arnie borrowed Mr. Bing's telephone. Who was he planning to call?

Arnie went into DOUGHNUT SHOCK when he learned that the baker makes doughnuts for people to eat. Name 3 things that happened to him when he went into shock.

Arnie and Mr. Bing each made lists of things they could do with Arnie instead of Mr. Bing eating him. Name 3 ideas each of them had.

As Arnie left Mr. Bings apartment, what suddenly gave Mr. Bing a new idea for Arnie?

What did Arnie say to Mr. Bing when he asked Arnie if he could do tricks, like rolling over?

Mr. Bing excitedly told Arnie, "Well, then, there's only one thing left to ask."
What was that one thing?

Name 3 things Arnie and Mr. Bing did together after he became a doughnut-dog?

Once Arnie became a doughnut-dog, he went through a short phase of doing what?

What did the lady in the park say to Arnie as she knelt down to pet him?

On the last page of the story, what did the sign in Mr. Bing's bedroom window say?